ALLIES DELAY PUZZLING U. S.

Opportunity For Hitting Hun Fatal Blow Fast Passing.

WEATHER CALLS HALT

Enemy Is Given Favorable Chance To Dig, In Say Authorities.

Amsterdam, April 3.—German newspapers received here assert that the marked decrease in the fighting in France was made necessary by the bad weather, but that it soon will begin again.

Washington, April 3.—With the battle of Picardy brought to a standstill for the time being, at least, and the initial momentum of the German drive overcome, military observers were plainly puzzled to-night by the fact that a great counter-assault had not developed. The psychological moment of the counter stroke, under the rules of strategy, they think, is passing, if it has not already passed, without a recorded movement of the allied forces toward throwing back the exhausted foe before he has had time to dig himself in.

Officers here admit frankly, however, that they do not know what the situation at the front is. If any report has come from Generals Hindenburg or Pershing that would serve to explain the defensive tactics of the Allies, it is a carefully guarded secret. Naturally nothing would be made public regarding such advices, even without Secretary Baker's order of yesterday shutting down absolutely on War Department announcements regarding operations in France. That order has served, however, to make officers even more cautious about discussing the situation informally.

It is possible, it was suggested, that the plan of campaign mapped out by Gen. Foch is of far greater scope than would be involved in an effort to hurl the enemy back to his old lines. The German defenses there which successfully stemmed the British assault in 1916 are still intact, and even if the Allies were successful in rushing the German lines back over the twenty or thirty-mile zone he has wrested from them they would face those defenses when their own organization was badly demoralized by their advance and their men showing the wear and tear of a prolonged offensive.

Allied Losses Small.

Figures reaching here as to allied losses in the bitter days just closed in Picardy indicate that British and French casualties have been unexpectedly light in view of the scope of the action. One estimate heard, although its accuracy is open to doubt, fixes the total, including prisoners, at between 125,000 and 130,000 for the twelve days of ceaseless battle along a fifty-five mile front. This is to be compared, if correct, with French estimates of 350,000 to 450,000 Germans killed, wounded or captured during the same period. The bulk of the German losses were dead and wounded men, as there have been no claims from the Allies of having captured any great number of the enemy, although some thousands undoubtedly were taken.

ASSESSOR ARRESTED.

Deputy sheriff, Roy Keown, arrested county assessor, C. C. Hines, Saturday on a charge of false swearing, preferred by F. L. Dellar. The charge grows out of a lawsuit between Hines and Dellar. Trial of the case will be before Judge Cook Monday.

NEW FISH LAW.

Under a new law, effective on its passage, it is lawful to take fish by net and seine in all the rivers and streams of the state. Seines and nets must be of not less than two inches meshes, and a license must first be secured from the office of the county court clerk.

AT THE EXEMPTION BOARD.

The examination of the draft boys goes steadily on at the exemption board. It is expected now that a call for 800,000 men will be made at an early date, and the examination boards will be busy for sometime to come, preparing soldiers for the call. Those passed for service since our report last week are:

CIRCUIT COURT SUITS.

The following suits have been filed in the Circuit Clerk's office since the first term of court:

E. F. Gabbert vs. L. & N. Railroad Company, claim for damage to crops on account of improper flood drainage. Damages in the sum of $853 claimed. Glenn, Barnes & Smith, attorneys for plaintiff.

Thomas Decker sues the L. C. Railroad Company on personal injury claim for $5,000. Decker claims to have been injured by defendant's train, through negligence of the company's employees. Wilson and Robertson, attorneys for plaintiff.

Mrs. M. C. O'Tannion and Miss Hettie Brown sue the Backport Coal Company for value of coal alleged to have been taken from the plaintiff's land. Heavrin & Martin, attorneys for plaintiff.

T. L. Baker sues L. C. Railroad Company for $225 for alleged injury to stock. Wilson and Robertson, attorneys for plaintiff.

Della G. Hale sues Irvin Hale for divorce, alleging abandonment and failure to support herself and child. Heavrin & Martin, attorneys for plaintiff.

SQUIRE BICE'S COURT.

Esquire Ben Rice held a busy term of court in Fordsville Saturday. County Attorney A. D. Kirk was present as prosecutor.

In the case of Commonwealth vs. Robert Chancellor and Lawrence Tucker, charged with disturbing public worship, defendants confessed guilt and each were fined $25 and cost.

Commonwealth vs. Henderson Mills and Sarah Awtry, charged with living in adultery, defendants pleaded guilty and were fined $20 each.

Commonwealth vs. Irvin Hale, charged with failing to maintain a dependent child, settled out of court. Defendant paid a stipulated sum in settlement. The Squire says holding court is made easy when all defendants plead guilty.

MRS. HECHT FREED.

The murder of Herman Hecht, expressman, shot to death October 23, 1916, in his home, 1522 West Chestnut street, is still a mystery.

To-day the indictment charging his widow, Mrs. Rosa Hecht, with the crime was dismissed on motion of Commonwealth's Attorney Joseph Huffaker. Her daughter, Ida, jointly charged with the murder, had been acquitted by a jury Friday. At a previous trial of both women the jury disagreed.

MARRIAGE LICENSE.

Marion Farris, 20, to Pearl Crumes, 21.

Shockley Martin, 17, Sulphur Springs, to Ida F. Harris, 18, Sulphur Springs.

George Moseman, 23, St. Louis, to Opal Beunett, 24, Centertown.

4,000 STRIKE AT NORFOLK SHIPYARD

Carpenters and Other Workers Walk Out, Demanding Wage Increase.

Norfolk, Va., April 1.—Government war work in the Hampton Roads district was interrupted to-day by a strike of several thousand carpenters and other workers. Plants involved are the Hampton Roads naval base, the army depot at Bush Bluff and the ordnance depot at Pig's Point, all near Norfolk and the Langley aviation field at Hampton.

The carpenters inaugurated the strike for an increase in pay, and at some of the plants a sympathetic strike among metal workers, plumbers and engineers followed. Union leaders said tonight that the strike was not a union movement, but government officials and contractors said most of the men involved are union men and that they accepted this as evidenced that the strike was the result of concerted union action.

DRAFT STATUS IS FIXED.

Chairman Burroughs of the Norfolk County draft board, announced tonight that his board immediately would review all classifications and that the men involved in the strike who have been given deferred classification by the board would be placed in "Class I" unless entitled by reasons other than the character of their work to deferred classification.

The strike started at the naval base, where leaders of strikers eliminated 3,000 men were out. At Bush Bluff, where an immense army depot is being constructed, 500 carpenters were said to have walked out, followed by men in other trades. All carpenters engaged in building the ordnance depot at Pig's Point were said by the union men to have quit work, while 500 men, principally carpenters, employed at Langley Field, were reported to have struck.

Few Return To Work.

Maj. Butler, at the army base at Bush Bluff, said tonight that a few of the strikers there had been induced to return to work. It also was announced that Maj. Gitchels had been ordered here from Washington to attempt to settle the controversy between the men and the contractors.

DINNER AT ALMSHOUSE.

The members of the Fiscal Court, the Sheriff and a few other invited guests, were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Smith at the Almshouse Wednesday. Those present were Justices, Ed Shown, W. S. Dean, Ben Rice, Sam Stevens, Butler Rhoads, William Daugherty and Geo. Rowe; County Attorney A. D. Kirk, Sheriff S. A. Bratcher, Judge Mack Cook, chauffeur Alex Cartis, and Ed. H. Thomas, of the Hartford Republican.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith served an elegant dinner, which was enjoyed by all the guests present, and for which guests we are authorized to express the most unbounded thanks. We were about to omit to mention that County Physician E. H. Pendleton was present, and that he was one of the princes of entertainers.

We were shown through the various wards of the institution, which were scrupulously clean and sanitary, and interviews with the inmates indicate that Mr. Smith and his estimable wife are giving the inmates of the institution every possible care and attention.

BIG HAIL STORM.

The biggest hailstorm story of the season comes from Fordsville, as reported by Squire Rice. Ben says that about eight o'clock Sunday evening, modern time, while sitting quietly in his home a sudden bombardment on the roof scared him into a jumble fit. He said in the absence of a "dagout" he called his wife and children to follow him to the cellar. He said he was sure the German long range gun was being trained on his domicile, and held to that belief until after the bombardment was over and he came to the surface to find stones as large as the modern German shells. Since this hailstorm has not been reported from any other source we give it solely on Ben's authority.

SOME ROAD LAW.

Aaron Mosley and Lou Barrett, colored, were before Judge Cook on a warrant charging them with failing to work the road when summoned by the overseer to do so. The defendants were acquitted on a plea of insufficient notice, not having received the required three days notice. Overseers should take notice of the fact that the law requires that the road hand shall have three days notice of roadworking service to make him legally responsible for failing to perform the service.

MRS. J. E. FOGLE DEAD.

The death of Mrs. Lelia A. Fogle, which occurred at her home early Monday morning, April first, came as a profound shock to her wide circle of friends.

While it was known that she was critically ill, all hoped for her recovery and years of continued activity. Medical skill and untiring devotion were of no avail. With that bravery with which she fought every inch of ground, when she found the battle lost, like the brave soldier she made ready for the inevitable. Messages of love and inspiration were sent to loved ones far away, and words of counsel and blessing to those who with untiring devotion ministered to her comfort.

Mrs. Fogle was born October 15, 1856, only child of Virgil P. and Dorcas Barnes Addington. In infancy her parents dedicated her to God in baptism, the Rev. William Neikirk officiating. In her early young womanhood she united with the Methodist church. She gave to her church love and loyal support. June 6, 1877, she was married to the Hon. Jesse E. Fogle, a prominent attorney of the Hartford Bar.

Mrs. Fogle is survived by her husband, daughter, Mrs. T. B. Petrie, of Indianapolis, a son, McDowell A. Fogle, a young attorney, and two granddaughters, Misses Ruth and Lelia Petrie. A noble woman has gone to a Great Reward.

Funeral services were conducted at the family residence Tuesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, by Revs. A. D. Litchfield and R. D. Bennett, after which her remains were laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery. The pall-bearers were Mrs. Fogle's kinsmen; Judge J. S. Glenn, Wm. M. Fair, Judge W. H. Barnes, J. H. B. Carson, R. R. Riley and T. H. Black.

The beautiful floral offerings and the host of sorrowing relatives and friends were the last tribute to a noble woman.

The Woman's Literary Club has donated to the Juniors the fund heretofore used annually to buy books for their library.

Tuesday morning Mrs. Baileys, of Louisville, one of the State directors of the Red Cross Women's work, gave the school a splendid talk on the French children as she saw them while touring their country five years ago, and of their condition to-day. She also visited the girls work room, inspected their sewing, which she praised in the highest terms, and made valuable suggestions for their work in the future.

FIRST APPLICATION OF LAW.

The first application of a new law providing for a reward of $10 for apprehension of persons damaging school property was applied in the Fordsville country recently.

Dean Kirk apprehended Arthur Lee Edwards, charged with taking some books from a school house, and was paid the reward provided by law for apprehending such offenders. Young Edwards returned the books, and skeedaddled.

LIGHTNING FIRES BARN.

During the storm Wednesday morning lightning fired the barn of Mr. Morris Barnett, just across the river from Hartford, and within a few minutes the entire building was in flames.

A couple of farmers had driven their wagons in the barn to escape the storm, but neither men nor teams were hurt.

The barn contained several thousand pounds of tobacco, a quantity of corn, hay and farming implements. The loss of building and contents was about $2,000. Mr. Barnett had $400 insurance on the building.

SOME ROAD LAW.

Aaron Mosley and Lou Barrett, colored, were before Judge Cook on a warrant charging them with failing to work the road when summoned by the overseer to do so. The defendants were acquitted on a plea

GERMAN WOUNDED SENT TO BELGIUM

To Conceal From The German People Their Heavy Sacrifices.

Washington, April 1.—A French official estimate of the German losses in the great battle on the western front puts their total casualties at between 275,000 and 300,000 men. The Germans are sending most of their wounded to Belgium. It is declared, to conceal from the German people their heavy sacrifices.

The dispatches follow:

"After an eleven-day offensive, during which the Germans have recklessly pushed forward their attacking waves, one may gather a fairly accurate estimate of their losses.

"In the first place, it has been possible to identify nearly one hundred of their divisions since the beginning of the offensive, more than ten of which were twice engaged. Some divisions had to be relieved at the end of the first day, having lost more than half of their men, such was the case of the Forty-fifth and Eighty-eighth.

The later has been nearly entirely wiped out. Among those that have suffered the most are the Fifth, Twelfth, Twenty-eighth and One Hundred and Seventh Divisions, as well as the Second (Prussian Guard) the Sixteenth, the Twenty-first and Twenty-sixth Divisions of reserves.

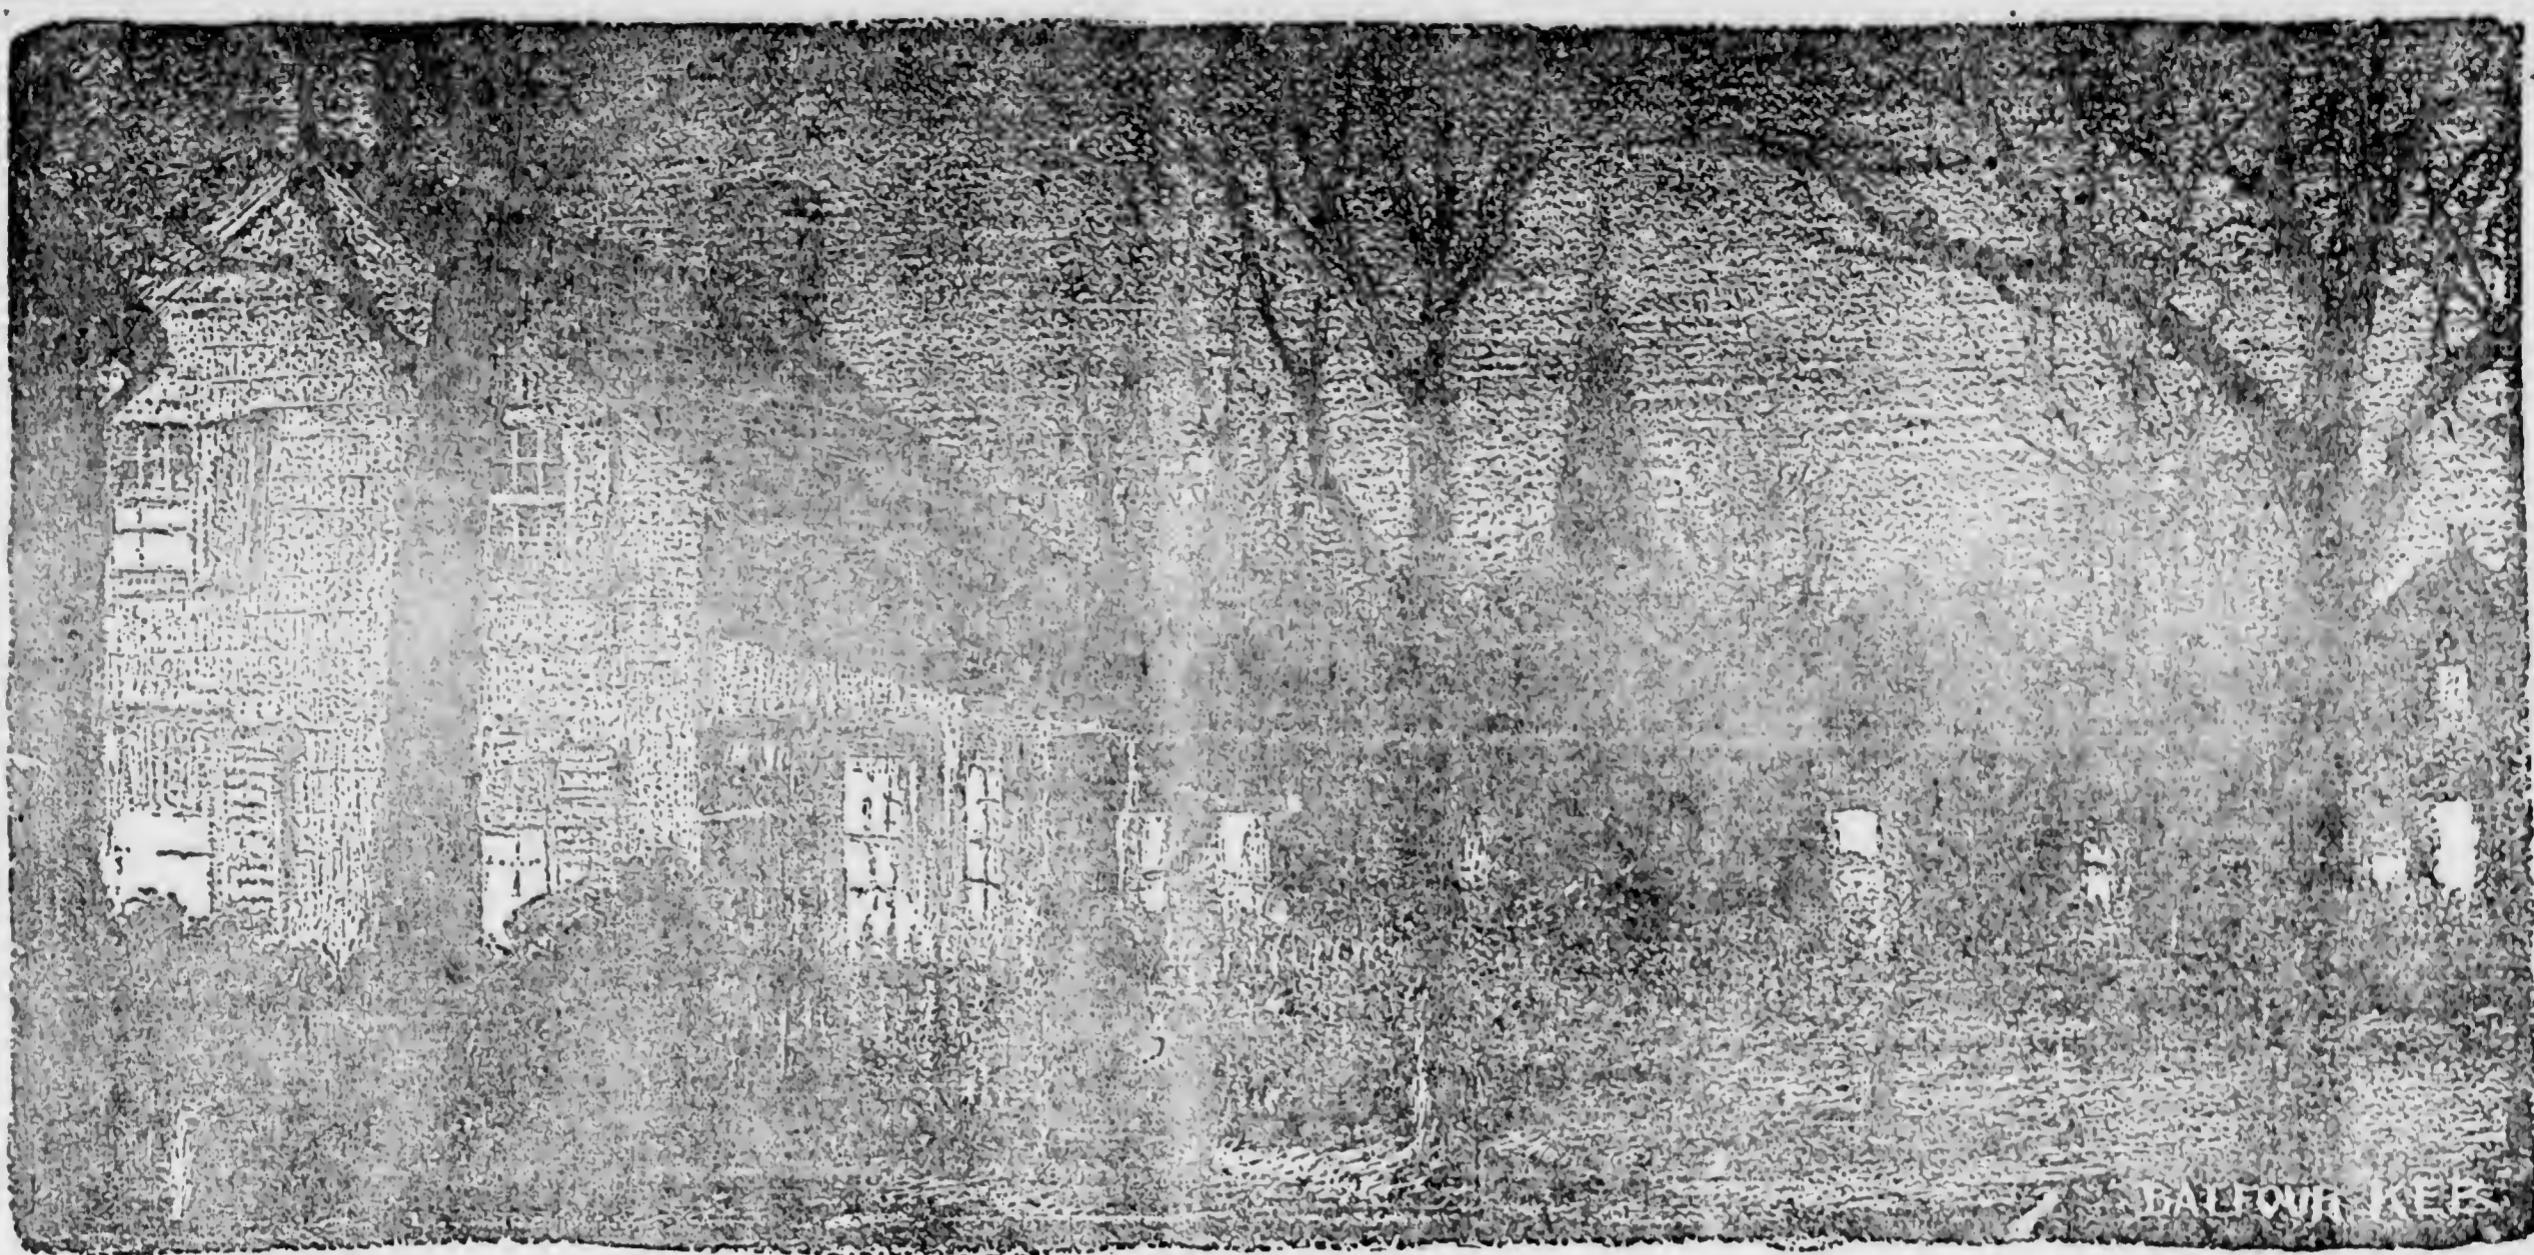

"In the second place, an enormous number of corpses were found on the battle ground, and the prisoners on being questioned acknowledged the extent of the losses of their respective units.

"To conceal from the German people the heavy sacrifices that their offensive methods required the Germans are sending most of their wounded to Belgium.

"It is not an exaggeration to estimate the total of their losses at between 275,000 to 300,000 men."

Tonight there will be American boys in lonely listening posts far out in the desolation of No Man's Land, American boys in the darkness and the mud and cold of the trenches under the ceaseless thunder of guns and the scream of shells, American boys tramping along the pitch-black, shell-torn roads. Through the long, dreary hours, as they wait and watch in the dark, while dangers lurk on every hand, their thoughts turn to the homes they have left behind, homes on distant farms, in scattered villages, in great cities, and they see in imagination the pleasant home lights shining out into the night.

They Are Fighting to Keep Those Home Fires Burning

As for you, it is your bounden duty to keep the fire of your patriotism burning with a steady, quenchless glow that will make itself felt across the Atlantic. It is your duty to furnish promptly the money for guns, shells, tanks, transports, airplanes, medicines; the supplies without which all the heroism of our soldiers will prove of no avail. ATTEMPTED SECRET TREATY UNEARTHED Contemplated Alliance Between Germany, Russia And France.

Petrograd.—The text of a secret treaty signed by the German Emperor, William, and Emperor Nicholas of Russia in 1905, which it has been charged the German Emperor sought to bring about an alliance between Germany, Russia and France against Great Britain, was among the secret documents made public by Leon Trotsky, the Foreign Minister of the Bolshevik Government.

This treaty was signed by the two Emperors on board Emperor Nicholas' yacht, the Polar Star, off the Island of Björke, on the Swedish coast, in August, 1905. It bears the date of August 25. The instrument has been designated as the "Björke treaty," and was so referred to by Emperor William.

It was signed while the peace conference which terminated the Russo-Japanese war was in session at Portsmouth, N. H., and provided for a "defensive Union" between Germany and Russia, under which either should come to the aid of the other if attacked by a third European Power.

France, then in friendly relations with Great Britain, was to be invited to join this Russo-Germanic alliance after Russia and Japan had signed a peace treaty. It appears, however, that knowledge of the signing of this paper by the two Emperors was withheld from France at the request of Emperor William.

The text of the Björke treaty as translated and divulged by the Russian Government, reads:

"Polyarnaya Zvezda (Polar Star), Björke, Aug. 24, 1905. Their Imperial Majesties, the Emperor of All Russia, on the one hand, and the Emperor of Germany, on the other, with a view of insuring the peace of Europe, have agreed to the following points of a treaty regarding a defensive union:

"Point 1—Should either of the empires be attacked by any other European Power, the ally shall come to its aid in Europe with all its land and naval forces.

"Point 2—The contracting parties shall engage themselves not to make a separate peace with the centaur enemy.

"Point 3—The present agreement shall come into force at the signing of a peace between Russia and Japan and shall remain in force until a period, the date of which shall be fixed upon a year in advance.

"Point 4—The Emperor of all Russia, on the coming into force of above treaty, shall take the necessary steps to inform France of said treaty and shall propose that France should join the same as an ally.

IN MISERY FOR YEARS

Mrs. Courtney Tells How She Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oskaloosa, Iowa.—"For years I was simply in misery from a weakness and awful pains—and nothing seemed to do me any good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and got relief right away. I can certainly recommend this valuable medicine to other women who suffer, for it has done such good work for me and I help others if they will give it a fair trial."—Mrs. LIZZIE COURTYARD, 108 8th Ave., West, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Why will women drag along from day to day, year in and year out, suffering such misery as did Mrs. Courtney, when such letters as this are continually being published. Every woman who suffers from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or who is passing through the Change of Life should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its long experience is at your service.

GERMAN FACTORIES MAKE WOODEN SOLES

There are now 180 firms employed in Germany in the manufacture of whalewood soles for new footwear with an output of 400,000 pairs weekly. Beechwood has been chiefly used, but any hardwood, with the exception of oak, will serve equally well.

Of the German boot and shoe factories which were in existence before the war only 400 are now in work; of these 25 per cent are working for the army administration alone, 25 per cent are employed in connection with the manufacture of gloves and similar articles, and the remaining 50 per cent have the task of meeting the civilian boot and shoe requirements.

PARISIANS KILLED ATTENDING CHURCH

Shell From Hun's Big Gun Crushes Into Good Friday Services.

Paris, March 29.—Seventy-five persons were killed and ninety wounded, most of them women and children, when a shell fired by a German long range gun fell on a church in the region of Paris while Good Friday services were being held, according to an official communication issued this evening.

Among those killed was H. Stroebel, counselor of the Swiss legation in Paris.

The same church was struck by a shell during the celebration of high mass last Sunday, and many causalities resulted.

The killing of the women and children who were praying in the church this afternoon has caused a feeling of horror and intense indignation in Paris. The German explosive missile fell amid an assemblage of peace-loving people, who were beseeching heaven to send an enduring peace on the day they were commemorating the greatest sacrifice ever offered that peace should reign on earth.

"Don't worry, my friend, we made a little mistake you're accepted," said a drawing voice behind the stroller.

The youth whirled and faced the medical officer. He blushed and stammered, but finally began to grin.

"That's number six for me," said the girl in the case.

GIRL "GETS" SLACKER FOOLED PHYSICIANS

Youth Who Couldn't Hear Now Training In U. S. Army Camp.

Detroit, Mich., March 30.—Although a majority of slackers in Michigan have sought to evade military service by submitting sad stories of physical ailments or helpless dependents, more than a few classical excuses have been heard by local boards and medical examiners.

"I have pricked a good many hot-air balloons since the draft law became effective," said one investigator, "and I expect to puncture a good many more. Usually the draft evader who thinks he is clever is pitifully clumsy and often falls into the most simple sort of a trap." The following little system caught more than one would-be evader:

A youth alleging defective hearing was taken into an examining room. "My hearing is pretty bad," he told the medical officer.

"That so? Let's see," said the doctor, as he stepped close to the young man.

"Put your hand over your right ear," said the doctor loudly.

The youth did so.

"Can you hear this?" asked the physician in a low tone.

No response.

"Now put your hand over your left ear," said the doctor in a very faint voice.

The order was promptly obeyed; the candidate "saw the light" and meekly submitted to the rest of the examination.

A sweet young woman, employed in one of the Detroit draft board offices, caught several slackers who were clever enough to foil the medical examiners. One instance, which was reported by a member of the local board, concerned a young man who insisted he was deaf and who evaded the tests and tricks of the examiners. As he left the medical room the smile which the doctor mischievously flashed at him caused him to forget war and home and country, as intended.

Engines will be installed at once and the Faith put into commission as rapidly as she can be fitted out, it was announced.

Experts who witnessed the launching predicted that concrete construction would mark a new era in ship building and that the speed with which such ships could be turned out undoubtedly would have an important bearing on the allies' successful prosecution of the war.

The youth whirled and faced the medical officer. He blushed and stammered, but finally began to grin.

"That's number six for me," said the girl in the case.

Reports are received every two weeks by the Food Administration from the 19 binder twine establishments of the country. According to a recent statement there will be an ample supply of twine for the 1918 harvest.

The Australian wheat crop for the season of 1917-18 is estimated at 114,020,000 bushels, compared with last year's yield of 152,565,000. The 25 per cent decrease is a result of reduced acreage and unfavorable conditions.

SPOTLIGHT TURNED ON FOOD HOARDERS

Washington, March 28.—State Food Administrators to-day were ordered to enforce rigidly by inspection and investigation the Food Administrator's new conservation rules applicable to all public eating places.

Where violations are reported the Administrators were instructed to hold open hearings to the public and the press so that persons failing to co-operate in the nation's hour of emergency may be known to their fellow-citizens.

Punitive measures, the nature of which will be determined by consultation with authorities in Washington, must be imposed by the State Administrators immediately on proof of violation of the regulations.

Wheatless meals and days are optional in private homes, but Administration officials expect a whole-hearted response to the plea for cutting wheat consumption to one and one-half pounds per person per week. The method of curtailment is immaterial, provided consumption here is diminished sufficiently to allow the shipment to the fighting forces abroad of the bare amounts needed to tide them over until the harvest. If reduction can be obtained without entirely giving up wheat at any meal, the Food Administration will consider that its programme is being followed. Hope is expressed, however, that even greater reduction than that requested will be effected if possible, especially among the well-to-do, who have a large variety of nourishing foods, and among the rural population, who are acquainted with many wheat substitutes not available to the dweller in an industrial community.

A youth alleging defective hearing was taken into an examining room.

"My hearing is pretty bad," he told the medical officer.

"That so? Let's see," said the doctor, as he stepped close to the young man.

"Put your hand over your right ear," said the doctor loudly.

The youth did so.

"Now put your hand over your left ear," said the doctor in a very faint voice.

The order was promptly obeyed; the candidate "saw the light" and meekly submitted to the rest of the examination.

A sweet young woman, employed in one of the Detroit draft board offices, caught several slackers who were clever enough to foil the medical examiners. One instance, which was reported by a member of the local board, concerned a young man who insisted he was deaf and who evaded the tests and tricks of the examiners.

Engines will be installed at once and the Faith put into commission as rapidly as she can be fitted out, it was announced.

Experts who witnessed the launching predicted that concrete construction would mark a new era in ship building and that the speed with which such ships could be turned out undoubtedly would have an important bearing on the allies' successful prosecution of the war.

The youth whirled and faced the medical officer. He blushed and stammered, but finally began to grin.

"That's number six for me," said the girl in the case.

Nature Cures, The Doctor Takes the Fee.

There is an old saying that "Nature cures, the doctor takes the fee," but as everyone knows you can help Nature very much and thereby enable it to effect a cure in much less time than is usually required. This is particularly true of colds.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy relieves the ills, liquifies the tough mucus and aids in its expectoration, relieves the cough and aids Nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition.

The Australian wheat crop for the season of 1917-18 is estimated at 114,020,000 bushels, compared with last year's yield of 152,565,000. The 25 per cent decrease is a result of reduced acreage and unfavorable conditions.

Washington, March 28.—State Food Administrators to-day were ordered to enforce rigidly by inspection and investigation the Food Administrator's new conservation rules applicable to all public eating places.

LIBERTY LOAN MEETING TO-MORROW!

If you are patriotic, if you are for the BOYS in and on their way to France and wish to have a part in upholding their hands in the hour of need, don't fail to attend the BIG meeting here Saturday. Come and bring your family, to hear the splendid address by Hon. Henry Hughes, of Paducah.

Then, Next Thursday, the 11th

come back and hear another splendid address delivered by Hon. E. T. Franks, of Owensboro. The time has come when not only every MOTHER'S SON, BUT DAUGHTER AS WELL, should do everything in their power to break up and end the war in Europe. Let's keep it away from our own shores and homes. Attend one, or better, both of these meetings. Perhaps some way may be shown for each of us to help. Again we urge you to attend.

JOHN H. BARNES, County Chairman.

FRIDAY, APRIL 5

Germany is staking everything on the campaign of 1918, and if you are going to help win the war, you must do it now.

The Republican campaign for United States Senator seems to have narrowed down to Bruner and Betherum. Take your choice.

Mrs. Tinsley says that new law requiring everybody under fifty to work 36 hours a week means a better garden at Tinsley Place for the next two years.

If the volume of local news in The Republican is a little below the average this week we beg the indulgence of our readers because we spent more than half the week visiting our wife and babies in Louisville.

Newspaper people, like everybody else, make mistakes sometimes, and we think our good friend Tom Owsley made one when he let Uncle Bill Schoeller resign from the managing editorship of his Somerset Semi-Weekly News.

It would be remarkable if the addition of two words should make the presidential slogan of four years before suffice for the opposite party in 1920. But it may be that "He Kept Us Out of War" of 1916 may read "He Kept Us Out of War Too Long" in 1920.

Gov. Stanley acted wisely in vetoing the bill prohibiting the teaching of the German language in state supported schools. No other action of the recent legislature was more ridiculous and unwarranted. Just now there is a demand for government employees who can speak the German language, and for military if for no other reason the American youth should be taught the German tongue.

Col. William Henry Jones, the veteran editor of the Glasgow Republican, is being favorably mentioned for the Republican nomination for congress in the Third district. Col. Jones is perhaps the most picturesque character in Kentucky journalism. He is proverbially honest, and knows no other name for a spade but spade. If we had William Henry Joneses enough in congress the country would be pretty safe against any crooked deals going through that body unless the William Henrys were asleep, and Col. Jones has a reputation of sleeping with one eye open when there is any crooked work going on.

"Lenroot Wins," headline of result of Wisconsin Senatorial election. The Senatorial election in Wisconsin Tuesday was one of the most interesting by-elections of the year. Wisconsin is the State of that Senator whose name no decent newspaper will now mention. Lenroot, Davies and Berger were the candidates for United States Senator. Lenroot was the Republican candidate, Berger was the Socialist candidate and Davies was the Democratic candidate. President Wilson lent the dignity of his name to Davies' candidacy. Lenroot thundered from the platform that the President should not play self and Davies who were both loyal. The result is pleasing to the Republicans who made a straight party fight. The President was rebuked at the polls. The President elected to make this election a test of national sentiment and lost.

ON WITH THE DANCE.

As in the midst of life there is death, in the midst of war there is politics. One is a government by the people through political parties, and loyalty to party does not necessarily involve disloyalty to country. The election of Irvin L. Lenroot to the United States Senate in Wisconsin Tuesday was distinctly a Republican victory. Mr. Davies, the Democratic candidate was a federal officeholder who resigned to make the race for senator, with the approval if not at the direction of the administration. President Wilson gave Davies the prestige of his personal endorsement, and in so doing changed the complexion of his administration on Davies' election. The voters of Wisconsin resented Presidential interference with their local politics by a substantial majority for Lenroot. Conditions in Wisconsin were unusual. That disloyal Senator, whose name no decent newspaper will now mention, has a strong following in the State. Victor Berger, Socialist representative of the Kaiser, was a candidate. The loyalty of Wisconsin was on trial. Both Lenroot and Davies were loyal beyond question, and fair minded men thought the President should have kept hands off, but he elected to stake administration approval on the fortunes of Davies, and the answer is a Republican victory that will go a long way toward heartening the Republicans of the country to make a strong drive to elect a Republican Congress at the November election. By personally endorsing the candidacy of Davies the President has made playing politics respectable even in time of war, and the Republicans may now cry, "On with the dance."

LICENSE OF PACKING FIRMS
BRANCH ORDERED REVOKED

Washington, April 1.—The Federal license of the New Orleans branch of Morris & Co. was ordered revoked to-day by the Food Administration for a period of seven days beginning April 8. The branch was found guilty of charging excess profits on corn products, and its license will be restored only upon proof that proper refunds have been made.

Squire Rice says, Ohio County is in her whole history, ever had a greater who came up to the measurements of Squire Buck Dean. Dean dimensions being 5'10 1/2". Hen another says it makes darn little difference whether Squire Dean lies standing or stands lying. It's just about the same, any way you take it. (Forget just how Rice spelled lies & lying.)

Any young man who goes to see his best girl and remains long enough for the hens to make a nest in his buggy, then deliberately hauls said old hen a half mile from home while on the nest sought to be exposed. We are not calling any names, but ask Lyman Barrett, the Local Editor on the Herald for particulars.

Editor, John Henry Thomas, went to Louisville, last week expecting to remain quite a long time, but a certain class of fellows found out John was in town and advanced the price of beer and booze on April 1st. When we came to the office on the morning of April 2nd, we found Thomas walking around, bemoaning his luck in general and cursing a certain class of Louisville dealers in particular, every man he traded with wanted to rob him.

If we had an enemy who had done us some grave injustice, for instance had lied on us in such a manner as to cause our mother to refuse to speak to us, our wife to leave us and our favorite dog to refuse us recognition, and we wished not only to get even with, but far, and away ahead of said enemy, we would quietly slip his name to some pesky life insurance agent as an A-1 prospect. (But we would forever keep man about the infor.)

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

At a meeting of the Hartford Bar, and the officers of the court, April 10th

1st, 1918, the following resolutions on the death of Mrs. Leila A. Fogle, wife of the Hon. Jesse E. Fogle and mother of McDowell A. Fogle, both of whom are honored members of the Hartford bar, were adopted:

Resolved. While we feel how weak are mere words in the presence of a sorrow so profound, and a grief so deep, yet with a hope that the expression of our feelings of tender sympathy may, in some measure, soothe the heart ache from the inestimable loss of a loving and devoted wife and mother, we tender to the bereaved husband and sorrowing son and daughter, our sincere tribute of respect and honor to her worth as wife and mother, the highest need of praise.

Second. We commend her Christian life and influence in the church and Sunday School, a devout member, supporting by personal service and with her means, all the institutions of her church; a consistent follower of the Son of God, at whose tomb we may next appear on the resurrection day, "very early in the morning."

Third. Be it further resolved, That a copy of these minutes be furnished the members of the family and a copy be furnished to each of the local papers for publication.

BAKERS STRIKE: KANSAS CITY IS FACING FAMINE

Kansas City, Mo., April 1—Advices from Food Administrator Hoover that he was powerless to intercede in the bakery strike, inaugurated here today as part of the general cessation of work, called in sympathy with a strike of laundry workers, left Kansas City facing the prospect of a serious shortage of bread.

State Food Administrator Mumford had appealed to the Washington headquarters to urge the bakers to resume work on the grounds that troops trains and training camps receive their bread supply from this city. Federal conciliators, the Mayor, a Citizens' Committee, an Employers' Committee and representatives of labor held various sessions to-day in an effort to end the tie-up, but failed to get the labor men and the employers together.

The Employers' Association late today agreed to meet a committee of business men in an attempt to adjust the strike and Mayor Edwards expressed the hope that this meeting might lead to bringing together all factions.

Meanwhile the general strike appears to be wearing out in spots. Street cars are running on most of the lines; part of the laundries again started operations and some of the downtown restaurants and barber shops were opened.

AMERICAN ARMY RIFLE HAS EDGE ON GERMAN GUN

American troops are armed with a faster firing and more accurate rifle than used by the Germans, according to our expert designers, manufacturers, and marksmen, says a statement by the Bureau of Ordnance. One military critic and writer claims the German Mauser does not permit the most skilled user to get more than 50 per cent of the firing speed of the modified Enfield adopted for the United States service.

A weekly bulletin will be issued in which opportunities for farm employment and the needs of certain districts will be listed. Posters announcing the location of Federal and State employment offices are being hung in post offices, railway stations, and other public places.

All third and fourth class post offices, of which there are 35,000, are now authorized to hire labor employment offices. During the last year 1,000,000 men have been employed in a number of states for the purpose of furnishing accurate information as to where farm labor are needed.

A Successful Worm Remedy.
A remedy for worms in chickens that a Massachusetts poultry raiser found "very successful," according to his letter to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, follows:

"Give the chickens no food or water for 24 hours before treating; then feed them half the usual amount of ground feed, in which has been mixed finely chopped tobacco stems soaked for two hours in all the water they will absorb. One pound of tobacco stems (weighed before soaking) is sufficient for 100 birds. Two hours after the chickens have eaten the medicated mash, give them one-fourth of the usual ration of ground feed mixed with water in which Epsom salt has been dissolved, using 11 ounces of Epsom salt for 100 birds.

"To reduce the chances of further infection all manure and loose dirt should be removed from the chicken yard, and the pens and roosts thoroughly scalded and cleaned with hot water."

Cheapest Eggs From Pullets.

Feed to produce one dozen eggs cost 10 cents with pullets, 14 cents with two-year-old hens, and 19 cents with three-year-old hens in a three-year feeding test conducted by poultrymen of the United States Department of Agriculture. These were the cost figures of feed at the time of the experiment, which began in 1912, and must be corrected to present prices.

How Indiana Responded.

As a result of the campaign for increased food production, one Indiana town of less than 5,000 people had 1,384 gardens last season. In eight towns of another Indiana county 98 per cent of all vacant lots were under cultivation. In three townships in still another county, where special effort was made to increase food production, it was estimated that ten times the average amount of garden crops was produced. Canners for canning fruit and vegetables were placed in each consolidated school in one county, and were loaned to communities which desired to use them.

More Beans, Peas, Peanuts.

As important features of its supplementary program for feeding the nation, its armies, and the allies, the United States Department of Agriculture recommends that great attention be paid to the production of beans, peas, and peanuts. On these subjects the program states:

"The production of beans and peas should be increased in regions to which they are adopted, because of their high food value, keeping qualities, and availability for domestic or export trade.

"Soy beans and peanuts should be increased in order to supplement beans and peas as human food, as a source of much-needed oil, and as animal feeds.

"The production of beans last year in the six leading States increased from 10,715,000 bushels to 15,701,000 bushels, and peanuts from 35,324,500 bushels to 60,222,000 bushels. But these increases proved to be greatly needed, and there is every indication that large increases will be readily absorbed in 1918.

"The peanut is especially valuable because of the oil it contains, for which the need is great. In the South, especially, soy beans and peanut meal are proving very satisfactory as partial substitutes for wheat. Both soy beans and peanuts are of great value as forage crops."

W.M. S. MOORE WRITES

TO THE HOME FOLKS

The following letter with the date, place from which written, together with signature clipped therefrom was recently received by Mrs. E. P. Moore, of this place.

Dear Mother.—Now for a few minutes of real pleasure. I cannot allow myself to think about home too much or I wouldn't be at all satisfied with my work here. I'll tell you Mother sometimes things go all right and sometimes everything seems blue, I suppose though that is true most anywhere.

The climate here in France is good. We've had sunshine every day we've been here. I find plenty of things ample.

here to interest me when I am not at work, and of course plenty to keep me busy when on watch. Brooke and I are taking lessons in French at the Y. M. C. A. Our Professor is a Frenchman who does not speak English. We pay eight francs for three lessons a week. A franc is worth about 20 cents in American money.

It seems that there are almost as many American men as Frenchmen here. Of course there are many French women here and I must say some of them are very attractive. Our shore passes are good only from 6 o'clock in the morning to nine at night. Certain parts of the town are restricted for Americans.

I see dirigibles and observation balloons occasionally.

I don't know when I'll get back, but I certainly do intend to come to Kentucky just as soon as possible after the ship docks "some-where in America."

Remember me to Beatrice and Mrs. Hayes.

Constipation and Indigestion.

These are twin evils. Persons suffering from indigestion are often troubled with constipation. Mrs. Robert Allison, Mattoon, Ill., writes that when she first moved to Mattoon she was a great sufferer from indigestion and constipation. Food distressed her and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on her stomach and chest. She did not rest well at night, and felt worn out a good part of the time. One bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets corrected this trouble so that she has felt like a different person.

NEW DRAFT BILL PASSES SENATE

All Who Have Passed Age Of 21 Are Subject To Call.

Washington, March 29.—The resolution extending the selective draft to men reaching the age of 21 years since June 5, 1917—the first registration day—was passed to-night by the Senate without a record vote, after a futile attempt had been made to add to it a provision for training youths from 19 to 21 years old.

It is estimated that about 700,000 men will be added to the registration this year by the resolution, which is one of the pieces of legislation on which the War Department is waiting before announcing complete plans for the next draft. It now goes to the House for consideration there with the bill to base draft quotas on the number of registrants in Class 1 instead of on population, another of the Administration measures already passed by the Senate.

The proposal to require training of boys over 19 and under registration age was in the form of an amendment by Senator Newell, of Indiana, which the Senate rejected, 36 to 26, after a debate of several days. A number of Senators who favor universal military training as a peace-time policy voted against the amendment.

Those Subject To Draft.

As adopted, the resolution provides that all male citizens of the United States residing in this country, attaining their majority since June 5 last, shall be subject to registration, under regulations prescribed by the President; shall present themselves for registration on a day proclaimed by the President, and thereafter shall be liable to military service.

There was no opposition to the resolution itself, the only controversy being over the New amendment. Opponents of the plan argued that training the youths would hamper urgent army enterprises and take the labor from farms and factories without providing soldiers for immediate needs at the front. Strong sentiment for universal compulsory military training was apparent, however, and to-day's vote was not regarded as foreshadowing future action on Senator Chamberlain's universal training bill.

Hoboken, N. J., March 29 (by A. P. T.)—Justice worked swiftly in bringing to punishment here to-day a man who made remarks against American troops. A woman heard Joseph Reik, a laborer, express the hope that the American soldiers passing on parade this morning would be sunk before they reached the front. This afternoon Reik was sentenced to one year in jail after having been saved by the police from violence at the hands of an angry crowd.

TO BUILD TWO MILES MORE OF SEA WALL

Galveston To Be Protected From Future Inundation.

Galveston, Tex., March 30.—Continuing the original plan of making the city more secure from tropical hurricanes, Galveston has begun nearly two miles more of sea wall—around the southwest front. The work, which was started a few days ago, will cost approximately $2,000,000 and will require nearly two years to complete.

When the tropical storm of 1900 had abated and Galveston had buried at sea thousands of citizens drowned or killed in the storm, leading men of the city met and determined to improve on the work of nature by raising the site of Galveston and thus shutting out the waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

The aid of the Federal Government was sought and the Texas Legislature agreed to remit State and county taxes pending the building of the monster rock and concrete barrier along the south front of the seaport. This original wall is four miles in length and is bordered by a brick driveway its entire length. Thousands of tons of Texas granite and cement were used in its construction and it was not completed until 1909.

Before the wall had been completed practically the entire city had been elevated seventeen and one-half feet, the height of the barrier. This was done by raising the buildings and then pumping millions of tons of sand inland from the gulf. The slope of land from the gulf. The slope of the city was made toward Galveston Bay on the north. The grade of the streets, including individual expenses, cost approximately $1,000,000.

Previous to 1911 wooden trestles formed the only connections between the island and the mainland—a distance of more than three miles; that year the causeway, built of sand and concrete was completed. It only carries the railroad tracks of several lines entering Galveston, interurban tracks and a public roadway as well. It was constructed jointly by Galveston county and the port authority using it. In center is a draw permitting the passage of all vessels. The storm of 1915 severely damaged the causeway and for several months it was impossible. Some months ago, however, repairs on it were begun and it is expected that they will be completed before summer.

For the extension of the seawall the Federal Government has appropriated $1,191,000 and Galveston county $565,000. It will be 10,300 feet in length from the point where it attaches to the old original wall between Sixth and Seventh streets, to where it ends in the heart of the original Fort Jacinto reservation. It will protect approximately a thousand acres of Government property and about half that amount in Galveston county.

Included in the original shipment of material with which to start the work were 5,000 piles and 1,500,000 feet of lumber along with several trainloads of rock and cement. Several thousand men will be employed in carrying out the undertaking.

The Mexicans, who raided the Nevill, killing Glenn Nevill.

Ten Mexicans were wounded during the running fight. The expedition across the line following was in personal command of Col. George Langhorne, commander of the Big Bend district. The cavalry troop recrossed to the United States late yesterday, having marched seventy-five miles in thirty-six hours, fighting the engagement in the meantime.

Gen. Jose Murgula, commander of the Ojinaga district, sent Col. Langhorne a formal protest against the crossing of American troops in pursuit of the bandits, stating he intended sending Federal troops to oppose their invasion. However, the cavalry troops returned across the border without seeing any Federal soldiers.

They brought back much loot taken from the Nevill ranch, including E. W. Nevill's horse and saddle and Glenn Nevill's cap and boots, found on a dead Mexican.

ST. LOUIS TO OPEN LOAN CAMPAIGN ON GRAND SCALE

MONSTER OUTDOOR INSPIRA-
TIONAL MEETING PLANNED FOR SATURDAY, APRIL 6.

150,000 CROWD EXPECTED

Vice-President Marshall to Speak—
Gov. Gardner and Other Notables Will Review Immense Parade.

The Third Liberty Bond Campaign will be launched in St. Louis April 6 with a monster parade and inspirational meeting.

More than 50,000 soldiers and civilians are expected to take part in the parade, which will form on Newstead avenue and Lindell boulevard and march through Forest Park to Art Hill, where the patriotic meeting will be held.

Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall will review the parade and deliver an address to an audience it is predicted will number 150,000.

Gov. Gardner will introduce the Vice-President. Seated upon the reviewing stand will be the Governor, Mayor Kiel, military and civil representatives of all of the allied nations and many other prominent persons. Included in the guests of honor upon the platform will be the parents of St. Louis men who are at the front or in training camps. The fathers and mothers of these soldiers will carry service flags as a mark of patriotic distinction.

A huge service flag bearing a star for every St. Louisan serving in the army will fly from the mast above the reviewing stand. The largest American flag in the world will be suspended upon the side of the hill above the reviewing stand. The flag is 78 feet wide and 156 feet long and was presented to St. Louis by the Million Population Club.

Following Vice-President Marshall's address a dozen bands led by Sousa's band from the Great Lakes Training Station, playing in concert, will render the "Star Spangled Banner" as an American flag is lowered at retreat. Lieut. Commander Philip Sousa has been invited to personally lead his band.

While the parade is moving through Forest Park a squadron of aviators from Scott Field, Ill., will bombard St. Louis with Liberty Bond literature. The airmen will drop from the sky appeals to the people to invest in bonds and thereby back the brave men who are making the supreme sacrifice upon the blood-stained battlefields of Europe, that America and the world may be freed from the menace of German domination.

Daylight fireworks will be an attractive feature of the celebration. The pyrotechnics will be symbolic of the occasion. Rockets shot into the sky will burst and flash in colors American flags, Uncle Sam's, the Statue of Liberty and other patriotic symbols.

April 6, the anniversary of America's entry into the war, was selected by Secretary McAdoo as the most fitting date to launch the Liberty Bond campaign. Mayor Kiel will proclaim a holiday in St. Louis and it is expected that business houses will close and everybody in the city who can possibly do so attend the inspirational meeting.

Five thousand soldiers from Jefferson Barracks, naval scouts from the St. Louis recruiting station, including a drum corps, a naval drum corps composed of women and Boy Scouts will head the parade. All civic and fraternal organizations will be represented in the parade.

Among the uniformed fraternal bodies which will participate in the parade are Knights Templar, Knights of Columbus, Knights of Pythias, Shrines, Elks and others.

The Chamber of Commerce, Rotarians, Jovians and other organizations will have delegations in the parade. There also will be a delegation from the trades and labor organizations. A dozen bands, military and civic, will furnish music.

A delegation from the Women's Council of National Defense and a Red Cross division will have a prominent place in the procession. Letter carriers and other federal and municipal employees also will be among the marchers. Every man, woman and child who participates in the parade is expected to carry an American flag and the next of kin of all soldiers are requested to carry service flags.

The parade will move at 2 o'clock. The Liberty Loan Committee intends to make April 6 the greatest patriotic demonstration day in the history of St. Louis.

Bond County Pledges Itself.

Advices from Bond County, Ill., received at headquarters, state that at a meeting in Greenville bankers and business men pledged themselves to underwrite the quota assigned to Bond County, whatever it might be, for the Third Liberty Loan bond issue. Guy R. Holles, president of the State Bank of Holles & Son, is county chairman. Bond County's subscription to the second Liberty Loan was $209,400.

WAR COSTS U. S. BILLION DOLLARS EVERY 30 DAYS

THE INCONCEIVABLE SUM OF $33,000,000,000 LASTS ONLY TWO YEARS.

GUARANTEE WORLD FREEDOM

Third Liberty Loan, When Carried to Successful Issue, Will Do
Much to Win War Quickly.

The war for world freedom is costing the United States one billion dollars a month, or more than $25,000,000 a day. Appropriations already made and bills now pending in Congress make it certain that the first two years of the war will cost America thirty three billion dollars. These figures are conservative. Indications are the expense will be many millions more daily.

Few persons have grasped the meaning of this stupendous sum. What does this huge sum mean to the people of the United States? Here are some of the things it means:

That an obligation of $330 has been piled up against every one of the 100,000,000 men, women and children in the United States. If it were necessary to pay off the present war debt at once, the head of a family of four would have to pay $1,320, more available cash than the average family of that size has.

Freedom comes high. Every 24 hours Uncle Sam must spend and is spending more than $25,000,000 at 25 cents a day for every man, woman and child in the nation. The expenses of the government are 16 times as much under war conditions as in peace times. Not until 1910 did the expenditures of the United States reach a billion dollars in a year. This year, the first in the war, Congress appropriated $18,802,027,501. In 1898, the year of the Spanish-American war, the total appropriations were less than half a billion dollars—$185,002,044, or about one thirty-sixth of the cost of the first year in the present war.

In addition to voting more than $18,000,000 cash for the first year of the war, Congress authorized the government to enter into additional contracts which aggregate $2,511,000,000, to be paid for at later dates as the work progresses.

Where millions of dollars formerly created interest in Congress, billions of dollars scarcely arouse a moment's attention, because everybody at Washington realizes that the best way to win the war in the shortest time is to throw the whole resources of the nation into the struggle and support the brave men who are "over there."

The war machinery for a year will cost in dollars and cents an amount that staggers the imagination. Here are some of the estimates submitted to Congress by the military branches. Army, $6,610,223,209; fortifications, $3,322,445,122; navy, $1,939,800,000; sundry civil, $1,160,242,998. The navy has just asked for an additional appropriation of $300,000,000 to speed up and increase the building of warships necessary to combat the submarine menace.

The people should realize that the vast sums appropriated to conduct the war are absolutely necessary to win the battle against the ruthless Prussian. Unless America spends now she will be enslaved later. Unless the people support the government to the limit Uncle Sam will be forced to derive the money by taxation.

Uncle Sam hopes and believes the people will voluntarily lend him the money necessary to conduct the war. The Third Liberty Loan campaign, which will be launched April 6, should have the support of every man, woman and child in the nation. Invest in Liberty bonds and make the victory not only sure but quick.

SAYS AMERICA WILL FLOOD WESTERN FRONT WITH MEN

"America is not going to be satisfied with a million or a million and a half men in France," Dr. Lyman Powell told an audience at the First Unitarian church last night. "America will flood the Western front with 15,000,000 or 20,000,000 men if necessary to beat the Kaiser."

Dr. Powell is president of Hobart College, New York, and he came to Louisville with Dr. Ernest Abbott, editor of the Outlook, to speak under the auspices of the Council of National Defense.

Dr. Powell expressed pity for the German people, who, he said, were "poisoned by fumes of Prussian acid made in Berlin."

The German people seem to know everything and understand nothing," was one striking sentence of the speaker. "They cannot understand human nature. They do not understand the spirit of Belgium or of France or of America."

"This war is a death grapple between autocracy and democracy. Our President has rightly said that the world can no longer remain half autocratic and half democratic. Autocracy has attacked three things dear to democracy—government, religion and home."

"The war has become a contest of wills. I know that ours will be strong enough to endure to the end. The Kaiser does not appreciate the strength of our determination. And the German soldiers, while wonderful fighters as they are, are not as efficient as the fighting men of America. We must first give them a good beating, then humanize and Christianize them."

Dr. Powell made an appeal for loyal united support of the President.

Dr. Ernest Abbott reviewed the history of Germany's assaults on civilization, saying that the Zurbur incident shortly before war was declared, when a Prussian officer was court-martialed for attacking a crippled civilian, typified the subsequent conduct of Germany as a nation.

Dr. Abbott read from Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg's speech to the Reichstag when Belgium was first invaded, in which admission was made that wrong was being done to Belgium, and the justification made that necessity knows no law. Excerpts from the German high command's instructions in regard to frightfulness in dealing with civilian populations were also read by the speaker.

"We should bear in mind," said Dr. Abbott, "that it is not American arms that stand in this fatal hour between our homes, our lives and the German war machine, but the arms of Great Britain and France. And we should never forget this."

"America must arouse herself and do her part."

The speakers of the evening were introduced by Prof. Reuben T. Hallock, who in a ringing speech made an appeal for patriotism that manifests itself in action rather than emotion.

"Patriotism is not a thrill or a choke in the throat," said Prof. Hallock. "Patriotism is action. Everyone can fight, can go over the top in his own way."

"The child who has not been taught to buy Thrift Stamps from the proceeds of its self-denial has not learned the A B C of patriotism. If there are any families in Louisville so poor that they cannot buy Thrift Stamps for every member, then, speaking for this audience, I think that I can safely authorize the Louisville Federation of Social Agencies to lend them money and we will either subscribe what is loaned or go out and raise it."

HUNS AGAIN SHELLS PAIRS WITH BIG GUN

Paris, March 31.—The bombardment of Paris by long-range German guns was resumed at 2:15 p. m. today.

At the services this morning the churches were even more crowded than usual on Easter Sunday.

No unexploded shell from a gun bombardment Paris has thus far been examined in the mounted laboratory (fragments of sufficient size to permit the directors to reach certain conclusions. They are of the opinion that a double fuse is used and that the guns fire 210-millimetre (eight and one quarter inch) shells.

Apparently four guns are being used, two on each alternate day. The tubes of the guns, which are rifled, are more than sixty feet long. The installation and adjustment of the guns must require at least three months. Doubtless they are concealed under mountain cement, rendering it most difficult to locate and destroy them.

An official note issued tonight says: "The German long-range cannon continued during the day to bombard the Paris district. One person was killed and one was injured."

HOW SHE WOULD FIND OUT.

Willie and Jack are two youngsters who are jinglingly inclined. The other day the following conversation took place between them:

"Aw," said Willie, "You're afraid to fight; that's all it is."

"Now, I'm not," protested Jack, "but if I fight my ma'll find it out and tick me."

"How'll she find it out, eh?"
"She'll see the doctor goin' to your house."—Harper's
